The April Meeting of BRMUG will be held at the Bluebonnet Library on April 17th, the third Thursday of the month, at 6:30

P.M. This month, William Sellers will provide a iPhoto Intro. iPhoto comes with each new Macintosh and is part of iLife. iPhoto is intended to be a consumer level product for managing photos. William is very interested in photography and is borderline between normal amateur and extreme. His needs push the limits of iPhoto (he is considering purchasing Aperture. This should be a good introduction to iPhoto combined with excellent awareness of the limits of iPhoto.

Members and guests are welcome. After the meeting, we will have our normal Social Hour at Brewbachers. <http://www.brmug.org/about-brmug.php> has directions and maps

Meeting Agenda:

6:30 PM	Welcome and recent news

March Meeting

The March Meeting was dominated by discussion of Apple, their various product changes and the other news. In spite of the questions and discussion we did get around to talking about iTunes. iTunes is a good way to play music -- but it is so much more. It started out as a great tool to organize music. It has expanded its functionality over the years. Now it is a great way to manage music, podcasts, audio books, and video. It can be used to produce custom playlists, mix CDs, normal audi CDs, and MP3 CDs/DVDs. iTunes is also the mechanism used to populate iPods and iPhones with music, address book info, calendar info, photos, video and games.

Baton Rouge Apple Store

The Baton Rouge Apple Store is OPEN! If you have not been -- you really need to go. While you no longer have to wait in line to get into the store, it is staying busy. But don't let that scare you away. Checking out is easy -- many of the workers have wireless checkout devices.

The store is really cool! It is not a work of art like the NY store, but it is great. The full hardware and software line is there (except Xserve). So go by the Mall of Louisiana Boulevard and enjoy!

AAPL

Apple has had a pretty good month. Apple closed at just over $153 with a market cap of $135 billion. A month ago Apple has at $126 with a market cap of $111 billion. Over the last month iTunes Store has been declared the number reseller of music in the US (overtaking Walmart). Rumors of a next generation of iPhone have been constantly repeated. Apple is steadily heading back towards its peak of $200. The next few months look very interesting.

Popular Mechanics Test

Popular Mechanics just published a test comparing Macintoshes and PCs. They declared the Macintoshes and Mac OS X clear winners. They even went on to say the Macintoshes, via Bootcamp, ran Vista better than the PCs they tested. Sounds like some more good news.

iPhoto Comments

iPhoto comes with each new Macintosh and is part of iLife. iPhoto 08 (7.1.3) is the current release.

iPhoto has evolved over the years. iPhoto is a tool to organize and import photographs. The current release supports import of "normal" compressed images, movies and "raw" images (be warned that raw images are very large).
